CONGRESSIONAL

WASHINGTON, May 13. House -Mr. Kunkle, of Md., from the Committee on a'cts, made a report charging R. B. Hackney, Doorkeeper of the House, with having abused his authority in the appointment of his subordinates, leaving some of them to depend on the grace and bounty of the House for their salary.

For this he cannot be too severely censured. Though frequently admonof the Committee at defiance.

Abuses in the folding room are pointed out, showing that false entreaties have been made on the books as to the number of documents folded, and the expenses increased from $600 to $2,-500 per month.

The Committee says there are charges of mal-practice of a venial character, but they do not propose to report the declarations of Mr. Hackney's subordinates, over whom he unjustly domineers. He is unworthy of his trust, and is either entirely incompetest to the performance of the duty, or shows a wilful and deliberate purpose to pervert and abuse the power with which he is intrusted.

They report a resolution that he be dismissed forthwith from office. The subject was postponed till Mon-
